Women's "Trot-Mocs"

For Vacation Wear

Whether at the seashore or mountains, in the country walks or city streets, you will certainly want a pair of "Trot-Mocs," the back-to-nature low shoes. They are light, unlined, flexible, and extremely comfortable, and yet good looking.

The soles are of elk leather, specially prepared by the "Trot-Moc" process, and will not stiffen or harden from wetting, and cannot slip, thus they are much safer than the average shoe.

Each pair of "Trot-Mocs" is fitted with beveledge rubber heels so that they may be used for tennis, as well as for all outing purposes.

"Trot-Mocs" are shown in Tan Moose Leather and White Canvas, $3.50 pair.

Charles H. Anthony Predicts Return of Hoosier G. O. P. to "Faith."

'MOOSE GOING TO BITS"

"Farmer" Tells Gotham's Wise Progressive Sentiment Is Dwindling.

Foraker "Sure Thing" in Ohio.

By FRANCIS B. GESSNER.

New York, June 29.—That old remark about going away from home to get home news came to mind during the Sunday evening session of wise men on the Waldorf roof. Indiana had an inining, thanks to the benign presence of the Hon. Charles H. Anthony, who humbly listened while the sizing up of conditions and men in several States went on. But when Indiana was mentioned the modest citizen of Muncie felt it was his turn.

Va., about ten years who rejoice that Foraker is at least to win the Republican nomination, whatever happens in November, wish they had not let the governorship go by default to a fervid statesman who if elected, will give the party and its loaders many nervous chills before the term is ended. Even yet the marked objection of Willis to Foraker may be to the word passed to deal swiftly and the word passed to deal swiftly and silently on primary day with one who has dared to lament that he might be nominated along with the statesman and corner for Fairfax County for many years and enjoys a large practice in the District. An Agontzing Appeal.

"Will Indiana ever return to the true faith? was the agentzing appeal of eminent political mourner whose rief gave the waiter an all-around or-

Then it was time for response from Brother Anthony, modest farmer and highly respected citizen. It was proclaimed by Anthony that Indiana was promising a return to the Republican faith, and the promise was most cheerully indicated by the farmers in back townships who are much more agitated than usual over what is not being done by the Democratic Congress and adminstration at Washington.

The Anthony observation and personal ontact with the farming contingent of the Hoosier State convince him of the ery marked spirit of resentment against he absolute domination of State affairs by Democrats and the solid Democratic delegation in Congress, augmented in power this time by a Democratic Vice

The conservative Anthony was not that of 1894 when Indiana was stirred against the Cleveland administration and the Democratic House that came in with the defeat of Harrison in 1832. While he 1904 Republican wave did well for Republicans in Indiana, there were features of the 1854 victory that have never been duplicated, and which have never been forgotten by veterans in Hoosier politics. To the plain, practical armer, Anthony, who also happens to be a capitalist, there is the same spirit Senators Vardaman and Smith to Adnade the election returns of twenty ears ago gladden every Republican heart outside the State, and put things in shape for continued Republican rep-resentation in Congress with few set-backs until 1916.

How About Temper?

No attempt was made by Anthony to sgainst the appointment of a confec-ducidate explain or analyze the present emper and condition. He simply stated the condition as he finds it day by day, will be under auspices of the National nd back of it all perceives a resolute isposition demanding a House delegation porated to test in the courts the right of the Presidential campaign.

The very marked getting back of Progressives who strayed from the fold in 1912 and the stirring up of innguid ones who went wrong or did not go at all in 19th, has been noted by the observing Anthony and he bases both hope and prediction chiefly on the general going to bits of the Progressive sentiment throughout the State. Any how, his level headed, rather than enthusiastic, view of things out home added cheer to the Republican segment of the circle without offending the Democratic continuous of the sufferers. The executive officers

The explosion came with relation of the Willis expressions a few months back in Washington against what he called the presumption of Foraker in asting the Senatorial nomination and vindication.

The bounding Willis was reputed to have exclaimed with emphatic genture and excited enunciation that had no dreamed of Foraker going into the Senatorial running, the Senate rather than governorship would have been the Willis choice. The pertinence of this rather bombastic proclaimed to that smooth past grand master of politics. Senator Charles Dick, who resented it with unruffled demeanor, though thinking a lot about the Ada Normal School and the early bringing up of his excited friend.
